Be Bear Aware!

Hunters must be able to tell the difference between a grizzly and a black bear
because the grizzly bear cannot be legally hunted in Montana.
Three simple rules will help you make the right decision:

1. Learn how to identify bears.
2. Be absolutely sure of your target.
3. If in doubt, don't shoot.

Look for a combination of characteristics

NEW: Black Bear IdentificationTest — Certificate Required

- A hunter must take and pass a "black bear identification test" before purchasing a black bear hunting license. When purchasing a black bear license, including a sportsman's license with a black bear license, a hunter must present a certificate of completion issued by FWP to the license provider.
- The black bear identification testing requirement was adopted by the FWP Commission to prevent mistaken identity killings of federally protected grizzly bears and to help Montana maintain its black bear hunting season.
- There are two ways to take the test.
  1. Receive the training, take the test, and become immediately certified on-line at FWP's website: fwp.state.mt.us;
  2. Request a mail-in test from FWP, or pickup a mail-in test at any FWP office or license provider.
